2. What are the security features of the authentic Vietnamese Dong notes?

Vertical strip

There is a vertical strip across the note's width, stating the denomination, and the fake one does not.

Optically variable ink

The note is printed using the OVI, which causes color to switch between gold and green when it is tilted a bit.

Small window

Of the two transparent windows at the note's opposite corners, the smaller should show some image when put in front of infrared red light, but the one at the fake note would show nothing.

VIETNAMESE DONG (VND)

UV light

When put under the UV light, the series numbers on the real note light up while those on the fake one fail to, or do so weakly.

Polymer material

When bent in half several times, the real banknote will be faster to come back to the original look, while the fake one is more easy to break or tear.

4. What to do if you come across counterfeit currency?*

- 1. Do not accept the currency. Make sure you explore our guide before the exchange and remember the telltale signs of authentic currency.
- 2. If you suspect that the money is counterfeit, after the exchange, do not use it to make purchases or pass it onto another person. You would be perpetrating a serious crime.
- 3. Note down the details and all the information that you can recall about the person who gave you the money, the date and time of the event and the amount of currency.
- 4. Report to the local police, monetary authority or a bank (see contact details below).
- 5. Forward these details with the username of the person, date, place of exchange and the amount exchanged to our community manager at sandra@plainexchange.xyz so that we can identify the perpetrator.
